

About Affiliate Membership

in the Capital Area REALTORS®

You are involved in real estate transactions. Whether an attorney, title insurer, lending institution officer, appraiser, builder, surveyor or contractor, your professional services are part of many sales and leasing agreements.

Persons such as yourself, who supply valuable service and support for real estate owners, sellers and their agents, are eligible to apply for Affiliate membership in the Capital Area REALTORS® and the Illinois REALTORS®.

Included in your membership subscriptions to informative publications. You will receive news of local market conditions, trends and activities directly from the organization. Often you will receive special bulletins and other reports about late-breaking developments, as regular newsletter updates.

When you join the Illinois REALTORS®, you will receive the Illinois REALTOR®, with the latest news and information from throughout the state about matters which directly concern each member. Additionally, you will receive member rates and discounts on events and activities.

Real estate transactions involve many people. Your involvement as an affiliate member will help you expand your contacts in the real estate and business community and increase your prospects for business opportunities.

Whatever your particular interests in real estate, there are courses and seminars offered by the Capital Area REALTORS® to help keep you informed of the latest technology techniques and practices.

Participate in the many community service programs of the Capital Area REALTORS® which helps contribute to a positive image of its individual members in your community.

One of many rewarding advantages of your affiliate membership is the gathering of a new group of friends. Getting to know someone actively involved in a specialty occupation which affects your business can help you find solutions to problems you confront.

Joining the Capital Area REALTORS® makes you part of a large and prominent force in your community. You'll be part of the strength of the organization, which has been recognized for generations as the unified voice for the interests of property owners and agents in the Capital Area. The effect of the members' collective impact on issues is pronounced. Working to bring harmony to matters affecting communities throughout the state, your views command attention through the voice of your organization.
